My Grandpa lived at Berelands House for almost three years. Throughout his stay, I always found the staff to be very sensitive and thoroughly professional. They paid attention to him, listened to him, laughed with him, gave him a cuddle, and treated him with love and respect... They deserve recognition for what they do in their jobs.

Berelands House are setting a good example of what great dementia care can look like. The outdoor space helps to provide residents with a sense of familiarity in a place that is safe and supported. I feel that this creates an enhanced dementia-friendly environment and helps to support people living with dementia in many ways.

Introducing our village square at Berelands House

We have transformed part of our gardens into a sensory village square for residents to enjoy. This gives the people that we support the opportunity to go shopping, meet their fellow residents and spend time outdoors in each other's company. The garden village includes:

- A town hall
- Barbers
- CaféFlorist
- Greengrocers
- Newsagents
- Post office
- Travel agents

Around the square, the colourful and vibrant store fronts help to bring the village to life. The café, florist, greengrocers and newsagent are also functioning shops. Prior to COVID-19, visitors and families could make their own tea and coffee, buy flowers and even do some food and grocery shopping in the village.

The pathway leading to the shops is safe for residents who walk about, meaning that they can visit the shops in the day. Garden umbrellas and chairs are also dotted around the square, and the scents from the garden's flowers and the herbs complete the experience. The garden also caters to outdoor group activities for the residents and can become an outdoor concert venue for guest performers, subject to future relaxation of visiting and social distancing.

dedicated Activities Co-ordinators, who develop individual activity schedules tailored to the personal lives and interests of the people in our care.

Feedback from our residents is regularly encouraged and important to us. We hold monthly residents' meetings and surveys to further ensure we are meeting all of their needs, including the activities that take place. Please find below examples of activities either prior to COVID-19 or that are currently taking place at Berelands House.

- Arts and crafts
- Baking
- Board games
- · Exercise classes
- Gardening club
- Intergenerational activities with children of all ages
- · Karaoke and additional musical entertainment
- Knitting
- Music therapy
- · Regular trips out
- Sensory sessions
- · Shopping in our own 'village square'
- · Sports including curling and golf

Our highly trained staff support all of the residents, including those with dementia, to live a fulfilled life. We hold regular activities specifically designed for people living with the condition, including 'singing for the brain' and doll therapy. All residents are also encouraged to share their life stories and create memory boxes. The 'village square' at Berelands House is also further designed for people living with dementia. This includes:

- · Dementia-friendly décor
- Flowers and different herbs that scent the village, providing sensory stimulation for those who wish to enjoy the day outside
- Items such as vintage bikes and flower pots to encourage reminiscing

be. Not only will they be cared for, they will be treated like human beings. It's not just the important things that matter, it's also the little things, and Berelands do those little things.
