RENAISSANCE
AT GLENCAIRN

Where excellence is delivered with compassion

Welcome to Renaissance At Glencairn, an intimate and luxurious boutique-style home, offering warm, respectful and personalised residential care.

Tailoring our approach for each resident, we offer an independent supported lifestyle with a close-knit feel. That's because we know that people thrive when they feel connected – to each other, to their friends and family and to their community. And, at Glencairn, we're proud to have created somewhere individuals can flourish in a positive and convivial atmosphere.

Set in a lavishly refurbished nineteenth century building, this property is home to just 26 stylish en-suite rooms which maintains the homely and private atmosphere. With elegant shared areas including an airy conservatory, outdoor garden with pond and even a putting green, Glencairn is situated in the desirable Grange area of south Edinburgh, just minutes from the stunning Meadows.

Why not visit us at Glencairn to take a look for yourself. Feel free to drop in whenever suits you, and enjoy the warmest of welcomes.

Room to flourish

Renaissance At Glencairn offers a choice of luxurious rooms, all restored to the highest standard and designed to offer a smart, boutique-hotel feel. With a blend of single or companion-occupancy bedrooms, each one is spacious, bright and stylish, with TV, WIFI and superb period features.

But, like the residents that occupy them, the rooms are also completely individual – from our opulent ‘turret’ bedrooms to stunning balcony rooms overlooking the beautiful Edinburgh scenery. Some rooms offer direct access out to the garden and several even have private dining space for sociable suppers or intimate dinners with loved ones.

Of course, Glencairn is beautifully furnished with elegant period pieces, but residents are still encouraged to personalise their space with their own treasured possessions. Our aim is always to create a truly welcoming environment in which to forge new relationships, entertain friends and family or simply to relax in.

“The entire service is personalised and bespoke to each resident.”

A RESIDENT OF GLENCAIRN

The highest quality care

The intimate style of Glencairn ensures residents and staff enjoy a genuinely familial feel. This warmth and rapport is so important to us that we actively involve residents in the interview and recruitment of new employees, making sure we get the best workforce for our residents.

As a result of this bond, we develop a complete understanding of a resident's lifestyle and wellbeing needs, enabling us to create personal plans to achieve their objectives – whether long-term supported living or short-term respite care.

We have access to a suite of professionals – GPs, dentists, physiotherapists, occupational therapists, chiropodists, opticians etc – and are able to deliver exemplary care around the clock. And if a resident prefers to simply continue using their existing healthcare experts, they are also free to do so.

Enjoying the moment

At Glencairn we breathe life into our days with a host of inspiring activities and events. Whether a resident's preference is for an energising yoga class, a visit to the theatre, a French language course or simply a game of scrabble and a glass of sherry, we take the time to discover what they enjoy most in life and help them to continue doing so.

We are active in the local community, attending local events and enjoying diverting trips and thought-provoking excursions. We love to see residents living their sociable, connected lives, entertaining guests, visiting friends or enjoying lively conversation over drinks and dinner.

There are also quiet areas at Glencairn, where residents can curl up with a glass of wine and a good book while our visiting Therapy Dog snores at their feet!

Appetite for life

Having dinner in a favourite restaurant is one of life's greatest pleasures. And with our beautiful dining room boasting restaurant-style table service, varied menus and wine served with dinner, guests could be forgiven for thinking they were in a high-end eatery!

Residents can also help themselves to snacks and drinks and room service is available in all bedrooms.

Seasonal menus feature plenty of meal options and residents can even provide input into the dishes that appear on the menu. Glencairn staff can also offer nutritional advice and dietary recommendations where required, taking care to deliver delicious and nourishing array of meals to suit even the most discerning palate.
